2	Jurors: You now are the jury in this case, and I want to take a few minutes to tell you something
3	about your duties as jurors and to give you some preliminary instructions. At the end of the trial I will
4	give you more detailed [written] instructions that will control your deliberations. When you deliberate,
5	it will be your duty to weigh and to evaluate all the evidence received in the case and, in that process, to
6	decide the facts. To the facts as you find them, you will apply the law as I give it to you, whether you
7	agree with the law or not. You must decide the case solely on the evidence and the law before you and
8	must not be influenced by any personal likes or dislikes, opinions, prejudices, or sympathy. Please do
9	not take anything I may say or do during the trial as indicating what I think of the evidence or what your
10	verdict should be—that is entirely up to you.

INSTRUCTION NO.

2 This is a criminal case brought by the United States government. The government charges the defendant Ryan McGowan with one Count of Engaging in the Business of Dealing Firearms Without a 3 License, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 922(a)(1)(A). The indictment also charges 4 5 defendants Ryan McGowan, Robert Snellings, and Ulysses S. Grant Early, IV, Conspiracy to Make a False Statement on a Firearms Record, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 371. The 6 7 charges against the defendants are contained in the indictment. The indictment simply describes the 8 charges the government brings against the defendants. The indictment is not evidence and does not prove anything. 9 10 The defendant has pleaded not guilty to the charges and is presumed innocent unless and until 11 the government proves the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. In addition, the defendant has 12 the right to remain silent and never has to prove innocence or to present any evidence. 13 [In order to help you follow the evidence, I will now give you a brief summary of the elements of elements of

14	the crime[s] which the government must prove to make its case: [supply brief statement of

Evidence may be direct or circumstantial. Direct evidence is direct proof of a fact, such as testimony by a witness about what that witness personally saw or heard or did. Circumstantial evidence is indirect evidence, that is, it is proof of one or more facts from which one can find another fact.

You are to consider both direct and circumstantial evidence. Either can be used to prove any fact. The law makes no distinction between the weight to be given to either direct or circumstantial evidence. It is for you to decide how much weight to give to any evidence.

INSTRUCTION NO.

There are rules of evidence that control what can be received in evidence. When a lawyer asks a question or offers an exhibit in evidence and a lawyer on the other side thinks that it is not permitted by the rules of evidence, that lawyer may object. If I overrule the objection, the question may be answered or the exhibit received. If I sustain the objection, the question cannot be answered, or the exhibit cannot be received. Whenever I sustain an objection to a question, you must ignore the question and must not guess what the answer would have been. Sometimes I may order that evidence be stricken from the record and that you disregard or ignore the evidence. That means that when you are deciding the case, you must not consider the evidence that I told you to disregard. 9TH CIR. CRIM. 2	In deciding the facts in this case, you may have to decide which testimony to believe and which
3	testimony not to believe. You may believe everything a witness says, or part of it, or none of it.
4	In considering the testimony of any witness, you may take into account:
5	(1) the witness's opportunity and ability to see or hear or know the things testified to;
6	(2) the witness's memory;
7	(3) the witness's manner while testifying;

INSTRUCTION NO.

I will now say a few words about your conduct as jurors.

First, keep an open mind throughout the trial, and do not decide what the verdict should be until you and your fellow jurors have completed your deliberations at the end of the case.

Second, because you must decide this case based only on the evidence received in the case and on my instructions as to the law that applies, you must not be exposed to any other information about the case or to the issues it involves during the course of your jury duty. Thus, until the end of the case or unless I tell you otherwise:

9 Do not communicate with anyone in any way and do not let anyone else communicate with you 10 in any way about the merits of the case or anything to do with it. This includes discussing the case in person, in writing, by phone or electronic means, via email, text messaging, or any Internet chat room, 12 blog, website or other feature. This applies to communicating with your fellow jurors until I give you 13 the case for deliberation, and it applies to communicating with everyone else including your family 14 members, your employer, the media or press, and the people involved in the trial, although you may 15 notify your family and your employer that you have been seated as a juror in the case. But, if you are 16 asked or approached in any way about your jury service or anything about this case, you must respond 17 that you have been ordered not to discuss the matter and to report the contact to the court.

Because you will receive all the evidence and legal instruction you properly may consider to return a verdict: do not read, watch, or listen to any news or media accounts or commentary about the case or anything to do with it; do not do any research, such as consulting dictionaries, searching the Internet or using other reference materials; and do not make any investigation or in any other way try to learn about the case on your own.

If you wish, you may take notes to help you remember the evidence. If you do take notes, please keep them to yourself until you and your fellow jurors go to the jury room to decide the case. Do not let note-taking distract you from being attentive. When you leave court for recesses, your notes should be left in the courtroom. No one will read your notes.

Whether or not you take notes, you should rely on your own memory of the evidence. Notes are only to assist your memory. You should not be overly influenced by your notes or those of your fellow jurors.

Although the defendants are being tried together, you must give separate consideration to each defendant. In doing so, you must determine which evidence in the case applies to each defendant, disregarding any evidence admitted solely against some other defendants. The fact that you may find one of the defendants guilty or not guilty should not control your verdict as to any other defendants.

Proof beyond a reasonable doubt is proof that leaves you firmly convinced the defendant is guilty. It is not required that the government prove guilt beyond all possible doubt.

A reasonable doubt is a doubt based upon reason and common sense and is not based purely on speculation. It may arise from a careful and impartial consideration of all the evidence, or from lack of evidence.

If after a careful and impartial consideration of all the evidence, you are not convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant is guilty, it is your duty to find the defendant not guilty. On the other hand, if after a careful and impartial consideration of all the evidence, you are convinced beyond a 10	reasonable doubt that the defendant is guilty, it is your duty to find the defendant guilty.

2	In reaching your verdict you may consider only the testimony and exhibits received in evidence.
3	The following things are not evidence and you may not consider them in deciding what the facts are:
4	1. Questions, statements, objections, and arguments by the lawyers are not evidence. The
5	lawyers are not witnesses. Although you must consider a lawyer's questions to understand the answers
6	of a witness, the lawyer's questions are not evidence. Similarly, what the lawyers have said in their
7	opening statements, closing arguments and at other times is intended to help you interpret the evidence,
8	but it is not evidence. If the facts as you remember them differ from the way the lawyers state them,
9	your memory of them controls.
10	2. Any testimony that I have excluded, stricken, or instructed you to disregard is not evidence.
11	[In addition, some evidence was received only for a limited purpose; when I have instructed you to
12	consider certain evidence in a limited way, you must do so.]
13	3. Anything you may have seen or heard when the court was not in session is not evidence. You

Evidence may be direct or circumstantial. Direct evidence is direct proof of a fact, such as testimony by a witness about what that witness personally saw or heard or did. Circumstantial evidence is indirect evidence, that is, it is proof of one or more facts from which you can find another fact.

You are to consider both direct and circumstantial evidence. Either can be used to prove any fact. The law makes no distinction between the weight to be given to either direct or circumstantial evidence. It is for you to decide how much weight to give to any evidence.

2	In deciding the facts in this case, you may have to decide which testimony to believe and which
3	testimony not to believe. You may believe everything a witness says, or part of it, or none of it.
4	In considering the testimony of any witness, you may take into account:
5	(1) the witness's opportunity and ability to see or hear or know the things testified to;
6	(2) the witness's memory;
7	(3) the witness's manner while testifying;
8	(4) the witness's interest in the outcome of the case, if any;
9	(5) the witness's bias or prejudice, if any;
10	(6) whether other evidence contradicted the witness's testimony;
11	(7) the reasonableness of the witness's testimony in light of all the evidence; and
12	(8) any other factors that bear on believability.
13	The weight of the evidence as to a fact does not necessarily depend on the number of witnesses

You have heard testimony from Christopher Kjellberg, Christoper Lenert and Brent Gentilcore, witnesses who received immunity and/or admitted to being an accomplice to the crime charged. That testimony was given in exchange for a promise by the government that the witness will not be prosecuted. An accomplice is one who voluntarily and intentionally joins with another person in committing a crime.

You have heard testimony from Thomas Lu, a witness received favored treatment from the government in connection with this case and pleaded guilty to a crime arising out of the same events for which the defendant is on trial. This guilty plea is not evidence against the defendants, and you may consider it only in determining this witness's believability.

For these reasons, in evaluating the testimony of Christopher Kjellberg, Christoper Lenert and Brent Gentilcore, you should consider the extent to which or whether his testimony may have been influenced by any of these factors. In addition, you should examine the 14 testimony of each of these witnesses with greater caution than that of other witnesses.

INSTRUCTION NO.

The defendants have been charged in an indictment. The indictment is not evidence. In relevant part, the indictment charges:

1. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) is an agency of the United States Government tasked with the responsibility of supervising, controlling, and licensing the sale of firearms.

2. A Federal Firearms Licensee (FFL) is an individual or entity, who after submitting an application and undergoing an investigation by ATF, is then granted a license to sell certain firearms, and other controlled items. Federal firearms laws require anyone who is a firearms dealer to obtain a federal firearms license. Private persons can sell firearms without a license, provided they are not engaged in the business of selling firearms, such as the occasional sale of a portion of a personal firearms collection.

3. An ATF Form 4473 is a document required to be completed by the actual buyer of a firearm from any FFL. Under California law, private persons who sell a firearm must use an FFL to transfer the firearm. The FFL must assure that ATF Form 4473 is completed by the actual buyer of a firearm prior to the sale or transfer of the firearm between private parties and must retain the original completed ATF Form 4473 on his/her premises. The ATF Form 4473, Section A must be completed by the actual buyer and must contain, among other information, the name and residence address of the actual buyer, along with the assurance that the buyer is the actual buyer of the firearm and is not acquiring the firearm on behalf of another person.

4. Pursuant to State law, certain firearms known as "off roster" firearms are not on the approved list of firearms and may not be offered for sale to the public as a new firearm by FFLs in California, but may only be purchased new by sworn law enforcement officers. Such firearms may later be lawfully sold by a law enforcement officer to the public in a "private party" transaction conducted through an FFL.

 MCGOWAN was able to purchase this firearm due to his peace officer status.

3 3. During the purchase of this firearm, on or about July 2, 2009, defendant RYAN
4 MCGOWAN filled out ATF Form 4473. Question 12a on ATF Form 4473, asks: "Are you the actual

As part, and in furtherance of the conspiracy, overt acts were committed including, but not limited to, the following:

1. On or about August 12, 2010, Sacramento Police Officer C.L. started the DROS process for a semiautomatic, Carl Walther, model PK380, ".38 caliber" handgun, serial number PK038993.
 Defendant ROBERT SNELLINGS was listed as the FFL that completed the paperwork for this firearm.
 The entry of the caliber on August 12, 2010 as ".38" is not correct. This handgun is not on the roster of approved handguns for sale to the public in California and can only be purchased new from an FFL by a peace officer.

9 2. On September 13, 2010, approximately 32 days later, C.L. private party transferred the 10 same firearm to defendant ROBERT SNELLINGS as a private person to complete the "straw purchase"

12 ROBERT SNELLINGS' business as the FFL to conduct the paperwork.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 371.

INSTRUCTION NO.

Defendant Ryan McGowan is charged in Count One of the indictment with dealing firearms without a license, in violation of Section 922(a)(1) of Title 18 of the United States Code. In order for the defendant to be found guilty of that charge, the government must prove each of the following elements beyond a reasonable doubt:

First, the defendant willfully engaged in the business of dealing in firearms within the dates specified in the indictment; and Second, the defendant did not have a license as a firearms dealer.

The government must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant engaged in a greater degree of activity than the occasional sale of a hobbyist or collector, and that the defendant devoted time, attention and labor to selling firearms as a trade or business with the intent of making profits through the repeated purchase and sale of firearms. For a person to engage in the business of dealing in firearms, it is not necessary to prove an actual sale of firearms.

A business is an activity which occupies a person's time, attention and labor, with some regularity or continuity, for the purpose of livelihood or profit. One may be engaged in a business even though the business does not require all, or even a substantial portion, of his working time. Nor is it necessary to show that a profit was actually made.

A person engages in the business of dealing in firearms if he has guns on hand or is ready and able to procure them, in either case for the purpose of selling some or all of them to such person as he might from time to time accept as customers. Such business need not be the defendant's primary business, nor must he make a certain amount of profit from the business. The statute is aimed a those who hold themselves out as a source of firearms, or those who engage in regular and repeated buyings and/or sellings of firearms, as opposed to an isolated or occasional transaction.

The distinction between collecting as a hobby and dealing as a business is not unknown to the law and where transactions of sale, purchase or exchange of firearms are regularly entered into in expectation of profit, the conduct amounts to engaging in business.

28

Willfully, as used in this statute, requires proof that the defendant knew that his or her conduct

INSTRUCTION NO.

Defendants Ryan McGowan, Robert Snellings, and Ulysses Simpson Grant Early, IV, are charged in Count Two through Six of the Indictment with Conspiracy to make a false statement on a firearms record, in violation of 18 United States Code, Section 371. In order for defendant McGowan, Snellings, or Early to be convicted of one of these counts, the government must prove each of the 6 following elements beyond a reasonable doubt:

7 First, beginning on or about the period charged in the indictment, and ending on or about the date 8 charged for that count, there was an agreement between two or more persons to make a false statement 9 on a firearms record in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 924(a)(1(A)) as charged in the 10 indictment; and

11 Second, the defendant became a member of the conspiracy knowing of at least one of its objects 12 and intending to help accomplish it; and

13 Third, one of the members of the conspiracy performed at least one overt act for the purpose of 14 carrying out the conspiracy, with all of you agreeing on a particular overt act that you find was 15 committed.

16 A conspiracy is a kind of criminal partnership—an agreement of two or more persons to commit 17 one or more crimes. The crime of conspiracy is the agreement to do something unlawful; it does not 18 matter whether the crime agreed upon was committed.

19 For a conspiracy to have existed, it is not necessary that the conspirators made a formal 20 agreement or that they agreed on every detail of the conspiracy. It is not enough, however, that they 21 simply met, discussed matters of common interest, acted in similar ways, or perhaps helped one another. 22 You must find that there was a plan to commit at least one of the crimes alleged in the indictment as an 23 object of the conspiracy with all of you agreeing as to the particular crime which the conspirators agreed to commit. 24

25 One becomes a member of a conspiracy by willfully participating in the unlawful plan with the 26 intent to advance or further some object or purpose of the conspiracy, even though the person does not 27 have full knowledge of all the details of the conspiracy. Furthermore, one who willfully joins an existing 28 conspiracy is as responsible for it as the originators. On the other hand, one who has no knowledge of a conspiracy, but happens to act in a way which furthers some object or purpose of the conspiracy, does not thereby become a conspirator. Similarly, a person does not become a conspirator merely by associating with one or more persons who are conspirators, nor merely by knowing that a conspiracy exists.

An overt act does not itself have to be unlawful. A lawful act may be an element of a conspiracy if it was done for the purpose of carrying out the conspiracy. The government is not required to prove that the defendant personally did one of the overt acts.

Because you must base your verdict only on the evidence received in the case and on these instructions, I remind you that you must not be exposed to any other information about the case or to the issues it involves. Except for discussing the case with your fellow jurors during your deliberations:

5 Do not communicate with anyone in any way and do not let anyone else communicate with you 6 in any way about the merits of the case or anything to do with it. This includes discussing the case in 7 person, in writing, by phone or electronic means, via email, text messaging, or any Internet chat room, 8 blog, website or other feature. This applies to communicating with your family members, your 9 employer, the media or press, and the people involved in the trial. If you are asked or approached in any 10 way about your jury service or anything about this case, you must respond that you have been ordered 11 not to discuss the matter and to report the contact to the court.

Do not read, watch, or listen to any news or media accounts or commentary about the case or anything to do with it; do not do any research, such as consulting dictionaries, searching the Internet or using other reference materials; and do not make any investigation or in any other way try to learn about the case on your own.

The law requires these restrictions to ensure the parties have a fair trial based on the same evidence that each party has had an opportunity to address. A juror who violates these restrictions jeopardizes the fairness of these proceedings. If any juror is exposed to any outside information, please notify the court immediately.
