ORDER

These appeals are consolidated for the purposes of scheduling, a single joint appendix, and disposition.

The Court disfavors redundant briefing. Although the appellants are not all jointly represented, they appear similarly situated and jointly litigated parts of the district-court proceedings. They are therefore encouraged to file a single consolidated brief addressing all three appeals or, at a minimum, coordinate briefing and adopt portions of other briefs by reference. See Fed. R. App. P. 28(i). The jointly represented appellees, who litigated together in the district court, must file a single consolidated response brief addressing all three appeals.

For the Court,
