EXPERT REPORT OF DAVID LOMBARDO

Subject Matters: The common and suitable use of firearms, which are banned under the Protect Illinois Communities Act, for lawful purposes, including self- and home defense, hunting and recreational target shooting.

Qualifications: I, David Lombardo, am the Founder and President of Safer USA, an organization dedicated to providing knowledge and training on the safe and responsible use of firearms for self-defense and recreation by law-abiding citizens. I am an Illinois Certified Firearms Instructor, an NRA Law Enforcement Instructor and an NRA Training Counselor on pistols, rifles, shotguns, home firearms safety, personal protection in the home and personal protection outside the home. I am also the former Executive Director and President of the Clyde Howell NRA Youth Shooting Sports Camp and the former President of the Aurora Sportsmen's Club. I have personally taught firearms safety and firearms use to both experienced and novice shooters and have extensively interacted with the gun owning public in a variety of ways for more than 35 years. I am qualified to testify on the types of firearms that are commonly and appropriately owned for lawful purposes, including self- and home defense, hunting and recreational shooting. My qualifications are further described in the curriculum vitae attached as Exhibit 1.

Opinions, Bases and Material/Facts Considered: Based on my personal knowledge and many years of first-hand experience and observation, many of the firearms banned under the Protect Illinois Communities Act, including various semi-automatic pistols and shotguns, and semi-automatic rifles built on AR- and AK-platforms are commonly owned by residents of Illinois and elsewhere for lawful and non-military purposes, including self- and home defense, hunting and recreational target shooting. This includes firearms with the ability to accept detachable magazines with capacity greater than 10 rounds (rifles) and 15 rounds (pistols). These magazines are also commonly owned for such lawful purposes. I have personally owned these firearms and magazines, and observed their use by many thousands of Illinois citizens.

For example, the most popular and commonly owned firearms today are rifles built on an AR-platform designed to accept detachable magazines. Many hundreds (if not thousands) of my students' choices and my personal observations of countless persons on, for example, the range further underscores this point. The popularity of these rifles is based, in part, on their modular design. They have an upper receiver into which the barrel is mounted and a lower receiver that holds the firing assembly and onto which the butt stock and lower grip are mounted. The two receivers can be disconnected easily, allowing the shooter to mount a different upper receiver and barrel and thus use a wide variety of rifle cartridges and change the length and weight of the barrel to suit the shooter's needs. Because of its adaptability, a single AR-type rifle can be used for target matches, home defense, and various types of game hunting.

By way of further example, the popularity of AR-platform rifles is due not only to their ready adaptability for different uses, but also because AR-platform rifles are lighter in weight, shorter in length and have less recoil than most traditionally-styled wooden-stock semi-automatic rifles, making them easier to handle and shoot. They are also very accurate and reliable. Many of the most commonly owned AR-platform rifles are chambered for .223 ammunition, a relatively inexpensive rifle cartridge that is particularly well-suited for self- and home defense purposes. Although the .223 round has sufficient stopping power in the event a home intruder is encountered, the round loses velocity relatively quickly after passing through walls and other objects, thus decreasing the chance that errant shot inadvertently strikes an unintended target in a home defense situation. Further, the right home defense firearm is the firearm with which an individual homeowner has the most familiarity and comfort, and AR-platform rifles are an excellent and commonly made choice, and I instruct my students on their characteristics, function, virtues and I recommend their use for personal defense.

Semi-automatic pistols and shotguns, and semi-automatic rifles built on an AR-platform are manufactured and sold for civilian use by many of the most well-known firearm manufacturers in the world, including Beretta, Colt, Sig Sauer, Smith & Wesson, and Ruger. In addition, there are many lesser-known manufacturers producing these rifles in substantial numbers to meet the shooting public's demand, including Anderson, Bushmaster, Rock River Arms, and ArmaLite. Review of these manufacturers' websites and www.gunbroker.com confirms this point. In fact, "AR" stands for ArmaLite, whose engineers developed the technology in the 1950's for the firearms that are now rightly considered modern sporting rifles.

Semi-automatic pistols, shotguns, and AR-platform rifles are also appropriately and commonly used for typically small game hunting for many of the same reasons they are well-suited for self- and home defense—accuracy, reliability and ease of handling. They are also used in the very popular "3 Gun" shooting competitions, the fastest growing shooting sport in the country, in which shooters use a pistol, a shotgun, and an AR-platform rifle to move through different stages and engage different targets from a variety of positions.

Regarding the firearm design features that Illinois has chosen to ban, including the capacity to accept a detachable magazine, pistol grips and thumbhole stocks; protruding grips; folding, telescoping and thumbhole stocks; so-called "barrel shrouds" and flash suppressors, and buffer tubes or arm braces. These features are typically integral to safe firearm handling and enable the shooter to accurately and reliably use his gun.

The presence on a firearm of one or more of the features that Illinois has chosen to ban and criminalize improve the safe operation, function and handling of the firearm.

Based on my extensive interaction with the shooting public and my knowledge of firearms and magazines, their characteristics, and their safe and appropriate uses, it is my opinion that Illinois has chosen to ban and criminalize ownership of categories of firearms and magazines that are commonly owned by law abiding citizens throughout Illinois and across the country for entirely lawful and non-military purposes.

Exhibits to Summarize or Support Opinions: A video summarizing and supporting my opinions and demonstrating the operational and functional features and purposes of various types of firearms and magazines is produced as Exhibit 2.

Publications: See Exhibit 1.

Prior Testimony: See Exhibit 1.

Compensation: I am compensated at a rate of $450 per hour.

Dated: May 10, 2024.

TESTIMONIALS

I have been a criminal defense trial attorney for 42 years. I have enlisted the professional assistance of David Lombardo and SAFER USA on more than one occasion. Mr. Lombardo's expertise in the field of firearms is unparalleled. I have had to consult firearms experts on many occasions over the years, and legal issues frequently arise in shooting cases. Mr. Lombardo has thorough knowledge of all issues in this field and is skilled in translating technical matters into clear and understandable language. I highly recommend Mr. Lombardo and his company. Attorney Dennis Doherty, Law Office of Dennis Doherty, Chicago, IL.

"Mr. Lombardo's evaluation was critical in resolving a child endangerment offense involving a firearm's negligent discharge. He quickly identified the significant facts, some of which were not immediately apparent. I highly recommend him to anyone needing expert testimony or insight!" Attorney Johnathan Sears, "Clark & Sears Law, PLLC, Des Moines, IA

"I engaged David Lombardo as a firearm expert in a federal case in the Northern District of Illinois. The case required an expert who could compare what appeared to be a gun in the defendant's hand in a video with a firearm recovered in a residence that the defendant was in just after the video was taken. Dave put great care into his work and carefully reviewed the video with the recovered firearm. He pulled from his knowledge of firearms, firearm manufacturers and researched airsoft guns and other matters essential to the case. His work assisted in convincing the prosecution to drop the case. He was a pleasure to work with, has a wonderful demeanor, is responsive and was patient with all my questions. I highly recommend using David as a firearm's expert." Attorney Gabrielle R. Sansonetti, The Law Office of Gabrielle R. Sansonetti, Chicago, IL

"I have had the pleasure of working with David Lombardo of SAFER USA as my expert witness in a major felony trial in Effingham County this past August. David's expertise and communication skills carried the day on the major issues of the trial. He is a pleasure to work with and has a quick understanding of the facts and issues that allows him to get the right message effectively across to the jury. I would always recommend David to the trial bar whenever and wherever the issue of forensic firearms, and ballistics are before the court and the jury." Attorney Monroe McWard, McWard Law Office, Springfield, IL

"David Lombardo testified as a gun safety expert on behalf of McHenry County Conservation District. Lombardo was tendered as an expert and was accepted as same by the Court. The Court finds Lombardo to be a highly qualified, credible expert witness in the field of gun safety." – The Honorable Kevin G. Costello. McHenry County Conservation District v. Brinkman. Circuit Court of the 22nd Judicial Circuit McHenry County, Illinois.

"Lombardo produced a video for use in court that was highly effective at clarifying the differences between the AR-15 and military weapons. The visual and narrative were most compelling. Job well done." Victor D. Quilici, Attorney. Matthew D. Wilson v. Illinois.

"My client was accused of the first-degree murder of his wife but claimed the gun fired by itself. Lombardo's knowledge of human factors as it related to the firearm explained in a credible manner how the firearm was discharged accidentally by the client. His Report was crucial in having the charge reduced to a negligent homicide." Ted Gailan, attorney. Illinois v. George Kleopa.

“Mr. Lombardo’s testimony was essential to resolving a hard-fought case involving a shooting which resulted in serious injuries to our client. His expertise in the field of firearms and his attention to detail to the facts in our case played an important role in our success.” Attorney Michael J. Sorich, “Cavanaugh Law Group; Chicago, IL

- 10/11 - 1/20 President – I and a few dedicated board members resolved two inherited lawsuits by the Illinois Attorney General, about 1,000 members and declining with an average age of 61.
- Reversed negative cash flow and over $1.0 million in debt which included 250 acres with 10 ranges and shotgun sports with sparse infrastructure including dirt roads that turned into mud pits in the rain and a terrible social media reputation.
- Did total turn around by the time I left office: 285 acres, 22 ranges, expanded shotgun sports, 2500 members average age 50
- Improved the financial picture to include a $4.1 million appraised facility with a $1.1 million annual operating budget, lawsuits resolved and nationally recognized instructors teaching.
- We now have every known shooting sport, upland and waterfowl hunting, an extensive education program and active community involvement.
- 1/13 – 9/16 Chief Range Safety Officer – Developed a comprehensive Safety Management system.
 - Developed and implemented a corporate wide safety management system including Range Safety Officers, Emergency Response Team and Security Team Invested in bullet wound trauma kits at every shooting position and an airlift evacuation plan to a Level 1 Trauma Center.
